

I am a mortgage broker, although I am not able to make cold calls which is frustrating to business I have developed other ways to make myself known. I love this law and do not want it to change. It weeds out the less serious borrowers and makes my sales time more effective. As for not recieveing telemarketing calls at home, I am no longer plagued by disturbing, endless rambling solicitations on weekends, evening hours or any other time for that matter. One being the Star Ledger news paper, who I once told that I will sue for harressment if they did not stop calling me! We are a GREAT state and deserve the right to privacy and unwanted phone confrontations! Please keep the law in tact. Think about your elderly who struggle to get up to answer the phone, only to have some uncaring person get aggressive to the point that they are scared to pick up the phone the next time it rings! I'm with you Govenor Codey, lets keep peace at home! We work too hard and live to fast to have our lives disturbed any further!
